

INFORMATION ON COOKIES AT LINDAHL.SE

1 ABOUT COOKIES

By using this website, you accept and agree that Advokatfirman Lindahl KB (“Lindah!”) saves cookies on your computer, phone or tablet. Lindahl uses cookies and similar technologies on our website www.lindah!.se to improve your experience and simplify and adapt our services.

Below, we explain in more detail how we use cookies and which choices you can make regarding our cookies, so that you can assess whether you want to accept cookies or not. Some cookies are necessary for crucial functionality on our site, and these do not require consent. For more information on which cookies require consent and what applies with respect to cookies and similar technologies, please visit the Swedish Post and Telecom Authority’s website.

The use of cookies is regulated in Chapter 6, Section 18 in the Act (2003:389) on Electronic Communication. In cases where Lindahl processes personal data, for example IP addresses, through the use of cookies, the data protection legislation will also apply. At present, the IP address is anonymized before Lindahl is provided access to the data. Any changes in information management are presented by updating the policy on our website.

Lindah! processes personal data also in other respects when you visit our website. In addition to this cookie policy, reference is made to our information on processing of personal data.

2 WHAT ARE COOKIES?

Cookies are text files with information retrieved or stored on the user's computer or on another device used for visits to our site. These are placed by Lindahl or by one of our partners and saved on your unit. Cookies are used to make websites work more efficiently or to provide information about how the site is used.

3 WHAT TYPES OF COOKIES DOES LINDAHL USE?

We use different types of cookies:

- Session cookies are temporary cookies that are deleted when you close your browser or app. We use session cookies, among other things, to determine which language you have chosen as a user.
- Permanent cookies are cookies that remain on your computer until you delete them or they expire. How long a permanent cookie is stored depends on the lifetime of the specific cookie and on your browser settings.
- First-party cookies are cookies placed by us on the website that you visit.
- Third-party cookies are cookies placed by someone other than us. Such cookies can be used by third parties to map your browsing patterns between different websites or to view your web history, for example to keep statistics.

4 WHY DO WE USE COOKIES?

Lindahl uses cookies for several purposes. The cookies we use normally improve your use of the website. Some of the features require cookies to function while others only improve the user experience.

- Necessary cookies are necessary to be able to offer our basic services, for example if you want to use the function to upload a work application to us.
- Analysis Cookies provide comprehensive information regarding your use of our services. We use these cookies to improve the user experience when you visit our website.
- Function cookies enable us to save settings that you make, such as a language setting, or to save information in completed forms. The purpose of these cookies is to make it as easy as possible to use our website.
- Security cookies make our services and your data safe and secure by helping us detect fraud and protect your data. These cookies are an important part of our services.
